

F.O. Protector Sleeve

Fusion Splice Protector Sleeve

Features

Fusion splice protector sleeve is with typical 40 or 60mm length, with stainless steel needle as the strength member. the fusion splice protector sleeve is with clear color outer tube to give a good view of the inside joint part. Fusion splice protector sleeves are mainly used for single fiber splice protection.

- For used with splicing tray.
- Protects fiber splices.
- Clear color outer tube and stainless steel needle.